Procedural Words

General

Pro-word	Meaning
Clear	End of contact
Over	Indication to a station that it is their turn
Out	Done listening; Will not be on the air
Stand by	Indication of a pause in transmission
Roger	Acknowledgment that a message has been fully received

Message Handling

Pro-word	Meaning
Break	Separates parts of a message
Initials	Signals a group of letters to follow Example: "Initials A C E S"
Figures	Signals a group of numbers to follow Example: "Figures 123 Main Street"
Mixed group	Signals a combination of letters and numbers to follow Example: "iCom mixed group ID1"
Amateur call	Signals a callsign Example: "Amateur call A C 1 E S"
I spell	Indicates the spelling of a word Example: "Terri I spell T E R R I"
I say again	Used to correct something you have previously said Example: "Need 5 gallons, I say again, need 7 gallons"
Affirmative	Indicates "yes" or agreement Example: "You say you need 7 gallons? Affirmative."
Negative	Indicates "no" or non agreement Example: "Do you need 5 gallons? Negative, 7 gallons."
Word after	Used to request repeat of a word after another Example: "Say again word after elephant"
Word before	Used to request repeat of a word before another Example: "Say again word before zebra"
All before	Used to request repeat of all the words before a specific word Example: "Say again all before storm"
All after	Used to request repeat of all the words after a specific word Example: "Say again all after flood"

All between	Used to request repeat of all the words between two specific words Example: "Say again all between storm and flood"
Query	Indicates a question mark used as punctuation Example: "Where is the shelter QUERY"
Xray	Indicates a period used as punctuation Example: "Medical supplies needed XRAY Send immediately"
End	End of message
More	Used after "End" to indicate there is more traffic to follow Example: "End two more"
No More	Used after "End" to indicate there is no more traffic Example: "End no more"